DEDICATION

MR. AND MRS. W. E. ROBINSON

PARENTS OF

MR. HARVEY ROBINSON

We, the Senior Class of 1949, dedicate this volume of THE TORCH to Mr. Harvey Robinson.

Mr. Robinson was an inspiration to the students and the faculty alike in that he always carried a torch of high ideals and happiness. His willingness to help others, even at his own sacrifice; his ceaseless desire to invigorate the minds of boys and girls; and his untiring efforts to make improvements throughout the school were among his outstanding characteristics which have so endeared him to the hearts of us all. We cannot express our gratitude for his years of relentless service, but we may well express our memory of him by quoting from Riley the following familiar lines:

"We cannot say, and we will not say
That he is dead—He is just away,
. . . Think of him still as the same, we say;
He is not dead—He is just away."

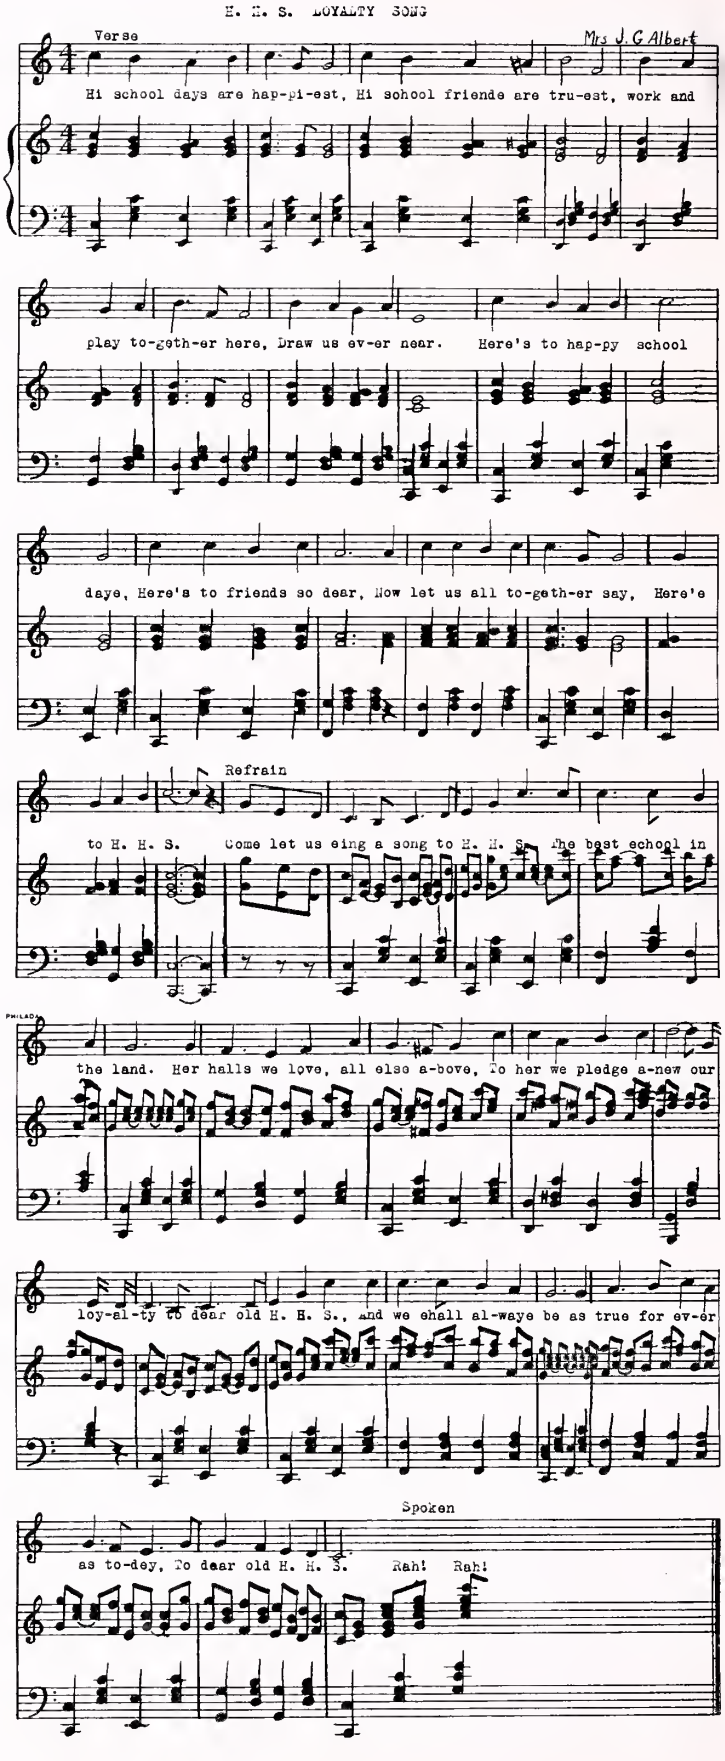
SCHOOL SONG



H. H. S. LOYALTY SONG
Verse
Mrs J. G Albert
Hi school days are hap-pi-est, Hi school friends are tru-est, work and play to-geth-er here, Draw us ev-er near. Here's to hap-py school days, Here's to friends so dear, Now let us all to-geth-er say, Here's Refrain
to H. H. S. Come let us sing a song to H. H. S. The best school in the land. Her halls we love, all else a-bove, To her we pledge a-new our loy-al-ty to dear old H. H. S., and we shall al-ways be as true for ev-er Spoken
as to-day, To dear old H. H. S. Rah! Rah!

CLASS HISTORY

Some retrospection on the part of a Senior Class arouses much interest, for in the passing of eleven years many events have taken place. In order to compile a history of the graduating class of '49 it is necessary for us to look back to the year 1937, when seventy-five six-year-olds started their first day of school. We were all well scrubbed and very, very excited, if not a little scared. But as the years passed we soon realized that this was just like a second home. Our teachers were like mothers, kind, patient, gentle and ever-ready to tend our hurts. Instead of just a few brothers and sisters there was a room full, with whom we lived, worked and played each day.

Upon entering high school as Freshmen, we were almost as excited as the first day of school, for very few of us knew much about high school. At first, we felt as though the Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors were better than we, but we soon found that we were all working toward the same goal and we were an integral part of the high school. We held our Freshmen Picnic at Jessee's Cave, where we had a very good time and more food than we could eat. It rained as we were coming back but that did not dampen our spirits. Fond memories, all of them!!!

When we enterd school the following year as Sophomores, we realized we had advanced still another step. Our annual class picnic was held at a very nice spot on Little River. We were furnished transportation by one of the school buses, and this marked another memorable event in our lives.

As Juniors we began to feel more important. The main event in our Junior year was the Junior-Senior Picnic, held at the Douglas Memorial. We held true to tradition and defeated the Seniors in the March of Dimes Contest—Juniors always top the ladder in money collections. WHY NOT? You can guess.

Now as Seniors only fifteen are enrolled who started in the first grade, and only fifty-two of the one hundred and two Freshmen have reached the final mile of the way. We are very proud to have reached our goal, but at the same time we are sad, for indeed our classmates are as true brothers and sisters by now, and it will seem as though we are breaking up one big happy family. However, time marches on and aonther Senior Class will take our places, as we leave the stage of high school action and take our places in the world.

"In the mountains of truth, you never climb in vain. Either you already reach a higher point today or you exercise your strength in order to climb higher tomorrow."

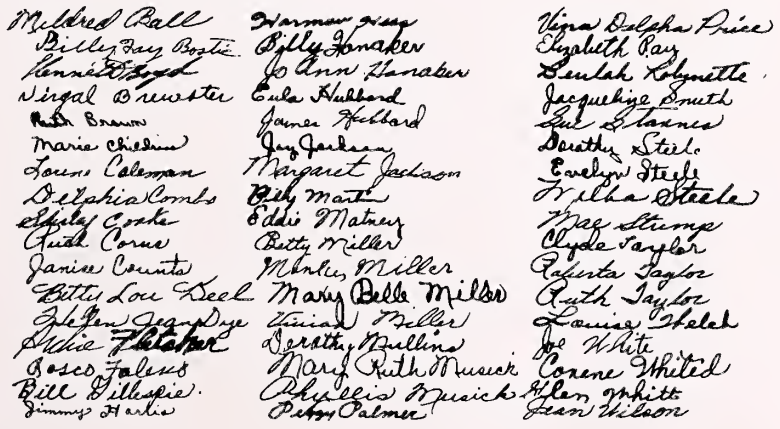
Louise Welch bequeaths her bashfulness to Jo Ann Newberry.

Corena Whited wills her long legs and loud mouth to some short, shy Junior.

Jean Wilson wills her title, "Laziest" to Leon Owens, who rightfully deserves the bequest.

Glenn Whitt wills his height to Don Honaker.

In witness whereof, we have hereunto subscribed our names and affixed our seal this the tenth day of December in the Year One Thousand Nine Hundred and Forty-eight.



CLASS PROPHECY

One evening, in the month of October, 1959, I glanced through my mail and found a small envelope postmarked Honaker, Virginia. I hurriedly opened the envelope and much to my certain surprise and pleasure I found an invitation to attend a "Homecoming" for the Class of '49, sponsored by Miss Mary Sue Fuller, our Senior Teacher in 1949.

I was very excited about the meeting with my old classmates, many of whom I had not seen since '49.

The date for the event was October 25th, and when I entered the living room of the Home Ec. Cottage that evening the atmosphere was familiar. There was Miss Fuller to receive us and she seemed very happy to see us and was just as sweet as ever.

I shall endeavor to tell you who read these pages about all those persons who were in attendance.

Harmon Hess, the President of Emory and Henry College, was outstanding in appearance and manner.

Janice Counts, the famous doctor, located at Johns Hopkins Hospital was there and she could talk of nothing except her many successful operations.

Sue Starnes was practicing to become a model and I was told she had hopes of securing a position with the Power's Modeling Agency in New York City.

A very happy aeroplane hostess, Dorothy Mullins, said she was employed by the American Airlines.

Helen Jean Dye (Mrs. Bobby Keene) was then the mother of two bouncing baby boys.

Archie Fletcher, yet as big a pest as ever, was a very successful business man in Drill, Virginia.

One of the residents of the home town, Mrs. Joann Honaker, had made Harry very happy by presenting him with lovely twin girls.

Virgil Brewster was teaching Agriculture at "Dear Ol' Honaker Hi." He believed he was doing the job as well as Mr. Busic did in his days.

The Nursing Profession was well represented by Mary Ruth Musick, Head Nurse at the Clinch Valley Clinic in Richlands; Ruth Brown, Supervisor of Nurses at the University Hospital in Charlottesville; and Joy Jackson, who was teaching Home Nursing to the High School students in Russell County.

Betty Miller was very successful as the new Junior history teacher at Honaker.

Mrs. Bill Moore, the former Dorothy Steele, was living happily in a little cottage in Swords Creek, Virginia.

Frank Sinatra's place on the "Hit Parade" had been taken by none other than Bill Gillespie.

James Hubbard said he had achieved his high ambition as a pilot in the Navy Air Corps.

Richlands High School had a new Home Ec. teacher, Beulah Robinette.

Margaret Jackson had become the owner of one of the largest beauty salons in New York City.

The Garden Creek High School students were very proud of their handsome basketball coach, Eddie Matney.

Fay Bostic owned a thriving coal mine at Swords Creek, Va., and had continued to practice the art of questioning.

The overweight ladies in Honaker had no cause to worry because a reducing school was being operated by Elizabeth Ray.

Jean Wilson was co-owner and efficient secretary to the Dry Cleaning Firm of Johnson and Wilson in Roanoke, Va.

Manley Miller was tall and handsome in his uniform for he was a General in the Army and had married the daughter of the Secretary of War.

Maior Joe White was even more handsome in uniform than he was in '49, when he and all the girls thought he was so "cute."

Eula Hubbard was planning to celebrate her tenth wedding anniversary in December of that year '59.

Mary Belle Miller said she had no trouble managing her husband, Toby Jackson, for all she had to do was to reach for the rolling pin.

Ruth Corns was secretary to the Swords Creek Mining Corporation.

Evelyn Steele was complaining about the difficult time she always had securing a "baby sitter" to look after her five children.

A very industrious taxi business was owned by Bill Martin in Grundy, Virginia.

Shirley Cooke, Billie Honaker, Roscoe Foloneo, and Clyde Taylor were owners of four of the largest farms in Southwest, Virginia.

Marie Childress was coaching basketball at Tazewell High.

These three happy housewives—Peggy Palmer, Vivian Miller, and Louise Welch, insisted that they would rather be homemakers than career women.

Claude Mason was home on a furlough from the Army and said he wanted to make it his career.

An art student studying in Chicago was the talented Vina Price.

Delphia Combs was an efficient secretary in Bristol, Tennessee.

Betty Deel was employed in Detroit as a Private Public Speech Teacher.

A day nursery for all the children in Drill whose mothers work away from home was operated by Lorene Coleman.

Mildred Ball was teaching on Big A Mountain, having succeeded her sister.

Roberta Taylor and Ruth Taylor were still employed by Mr. Ben Penny of the Five and Ten Cent Store in our town.

Corena Whited was a switchboard operator working in Japan.

Jimmy Harris was a successful salesman for the Fuller Brush Company.

Jacqueline Smith was teaching school at Pine Creek, Virginia, having succeeded her mother.

Glen Whitt was principal at Richlands High, a school of two thousand enrollment.

Mae Stump, the talented piano teacher at Lebanon High, was loved by all her pupils.

Melba Steele was a happy housewife in Richlands, Virginia.

Of all the people present, His Excellency, Governor Kenneth Boyd, was probably the most distinguished.

After all the gaiety of the Homecoming it was indeed difficult for me to return the following morning to my arduous duties as private secretary to His Excellency, the then, present Governor Boyd of Virginia.
